

ROSS FARM MUSEUM PRESENTS
THE FAYNE LEOPOLD FOLK ARTIST EXHIBIT
NOVEMBER 21ST - DECEMBER 4TH
DECEMBER 11TH - DECEMBER 20TH

Fayne Leopold (1945-2024) devoted approximately 35 years of his life to the Department of Highways, where he was a valued employee.

Fayne had a passion for building miniature structures, such as cabins, churches, barns, and garages, some of which are now on display at Ross Farm Museum. In addition to his miniature creations, Fayne enjoyed working on his pond with his brother, Randy, nurturing his garden, and travelling on his motorcycle and four-wheeler. He had a deep affection for purebred black Labrador retrievers, having raised around six or seven dogs throughout his lifetime, each one a beloved companion.
